Why Organic ?

Traditional non-organic cotton production is beginning to cause serious concern. The production of cotton uses more chemicals per unit area than any other crop, occupying only 3% of the world's farmland but using 25% of the world's chemical pesticides. This causes devastation to the land, polluting the air and surface waters.

It is not just the land that we should worry about. The World Health Organisation estimates that 20,000 people die each year as a result of pesticide use. Some of the pesticide groups commonly used by cotton growers - organophosphate compounds - are classified by the W.H.O. as "highly hazardous".

Organic cotton represents a return to safe and sustainable practices. It is grown with natural fertilizers and is free from toxic chemicals.

100% Certified Organic.

Orotoro garments are certified as 100% organic under the Global Organic Textile Standard G.O.T.S and are licensed by the Soil Association (Licence No. DK 19329).

Oeko-Tex 100

Orotoro garments are certified by the Oeko-Tex 100 Standard, Class I . This ensures that all processed textiles produced are free from any harmful or toxic substances.

Less impact on the environment.

At every stage of the growing and production process we implement natural and biological methods that have less impact on the environment.

Zero Liquid Effluent Discharge.

To achieve Zero Liquid Effluent Discharge, we use Salt & Water Recycling Plants. They recover 92% of the salt (4600kgc per day) and 95% of water (760.000 litres per day) .

CO2 Free Product .

Our efforts are directed at nullifying carbon emissions through initiatives such as carbon credits, organic farming, planting of trees and power via wind turbines.
